

The compression method with individually adjustable temperature regulation system creates an optimal long-term climate for your good wines.

Thanks to the low-vibration compressor and special shock absorbers, the wine cabinet leaves your wine with the quiet it needs to mature.

The active ventilation ensures air circulation in each temperature zone, which produces a uniform temperature. This creates an ideal humidity in interaction with the heat of the compressor and the airflows.

